

FIVE STAGES OF AN # EVALUATION PROCESS

The following five stages serve as a starting point for creating an evaluation plan for your program. This process is ongoing, rather than linear, and will require you to continue to make adjustments to your program and evaluation process.

